

Widows' Purse helps widows

validate the experience of grief

"About a month after the funeral, Sunah reached out to me, and since then, she has been great to check on me.

I joined her and the ministry team at Widows' Night Out, and I've been to one Widow Wednesday. It was very encouraging to be in a room with other widows who knew what I was going through. They made me feel like what I was going through was normal."

connect to community

"Widows' Purse has given me a community of ladies that understand my story, even before I know what I'm going through."

"Most of us are younger."

"You can't escape grief. Widows' Purse has been very therapeutic."

live with purpose

"Widows' Purse has given me the missing connection I needed in my grief by sharing my story and ongoing feelings with others that have been where I have been the past few years.

The understanding we share is very helpful in healing different aspects of my grief.

Being part of Widows' Purse gives me purpose as I move forward with my life."
